2018-2019 Gratitude Report

Santa Monica
Education Foundation

Dear Wonderful Donor,

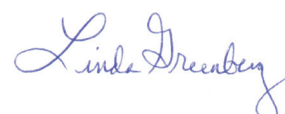

Every day, our Santa Monica students benefit from outstanding programs that YOU helped make possible.

In this report, we celebrate your support of our students and the opportunities you have created for them. Please enjoy these stories about students thriving in our schools, all thanks to your donations to the Ed Foundation.

With sincerest gratitude,

Nancy Patel
President, Board of Directors

Linda Greenberg
Executive Director

BECAUSE OF YOU...

Alex Loves Dance

Alex is a great kid. Like his fellow 5th graders, he likes hanging out with his friends, eating pizza and reading Calvin and Hobbes.

You might not believe it, but Alex also loves his ballroom dance classes at school. This may seem unusual for any 5th grade boy and it's especially surprising for Alex. Alex is in a wheelchair.

That hasn't stopped him from fully participating in ballroom dance with all his classmates. As Alex told his principal, ballroom dance class was the "first time anyone ever clapped for me. I loved it!"

Arts

- 622 5th Graders waltz in Ballroom Dance
- All elementary students draw, sing or perform in weekly arts classes
- Middle and high school students excel in dance, theater and art
- Music teaching assistants coach students

Katie is a Future Engineer

Since she was a toddler, Katie Richards has loved to build things. When Katie got to Samohi, she enrolled in Project Lead the Way, the four-year engineering program funded in part by your donations, where she got to design and build a variety of projects, from circuits to hydrogen-powered cars.

Last spring, Katie was called to the principal's office. She thought she had filled out an absence form incorrectly. But, when she got there, she was greeted by cameras, balloons, her mom and grandparents, and the CEO of Edison International, who was holding a scholarship check for $40,000.

Katie was one of only 30 students in Southern California to receive this prestigious scholarship this year. She won it for her creation (with some of her classmates) of a physical sensor that quickly detects potential brush fires around electrical wires.

STEM

- 1,578 elementary students explore the world in STEM programs
- John Adams Middle School students design apps
- Samohi students engineer in Project Lead the Way

BECAUSE OF YOU...

There's Another Educator in the Classroom

Elementary students benefit from more personalized lessons and small group work with classroom aides.

"Our classroom aide is present during reading workshop and writing workshop. I can work with students in a small strategy group while the aide circulates, conducting short compliment conferences with students around the room. We are so fortunate to have another caring teacher in the room to hear the students read and continue coaching them toward their goals."

- Virginia Ripley, 3rd Grade Teacher at Grant Elementary

Classroom Aides

- Highly trained aides support students' social-emotional and academic growth
- Aides teach reading, writing and math in small groups
- 73 aides work in our 8 elementary schools

Lucy is Thriving, Despite Diabetes

Lucy is a 2nd grader. She's bubbly, bright, and curious. And, last year, Lucy was diagnosed with juvenile diabetes. This means, every day before PE she has to check her glucose levels to see if she needs a glucose tab before running around on the yard. And, every day before lunch, Lucy visits the nurse to count her carbs.

Imagine trying to manage Lucy's insulin without a trained adult on campus to help. For many kids in California, that is the case. Because of donations to the Ed Foundation, however, kids like Lucy have a trusted health professional down the hall to check glucose levels and food. And, if something does go wrong, there is health worker on campus to help right away.

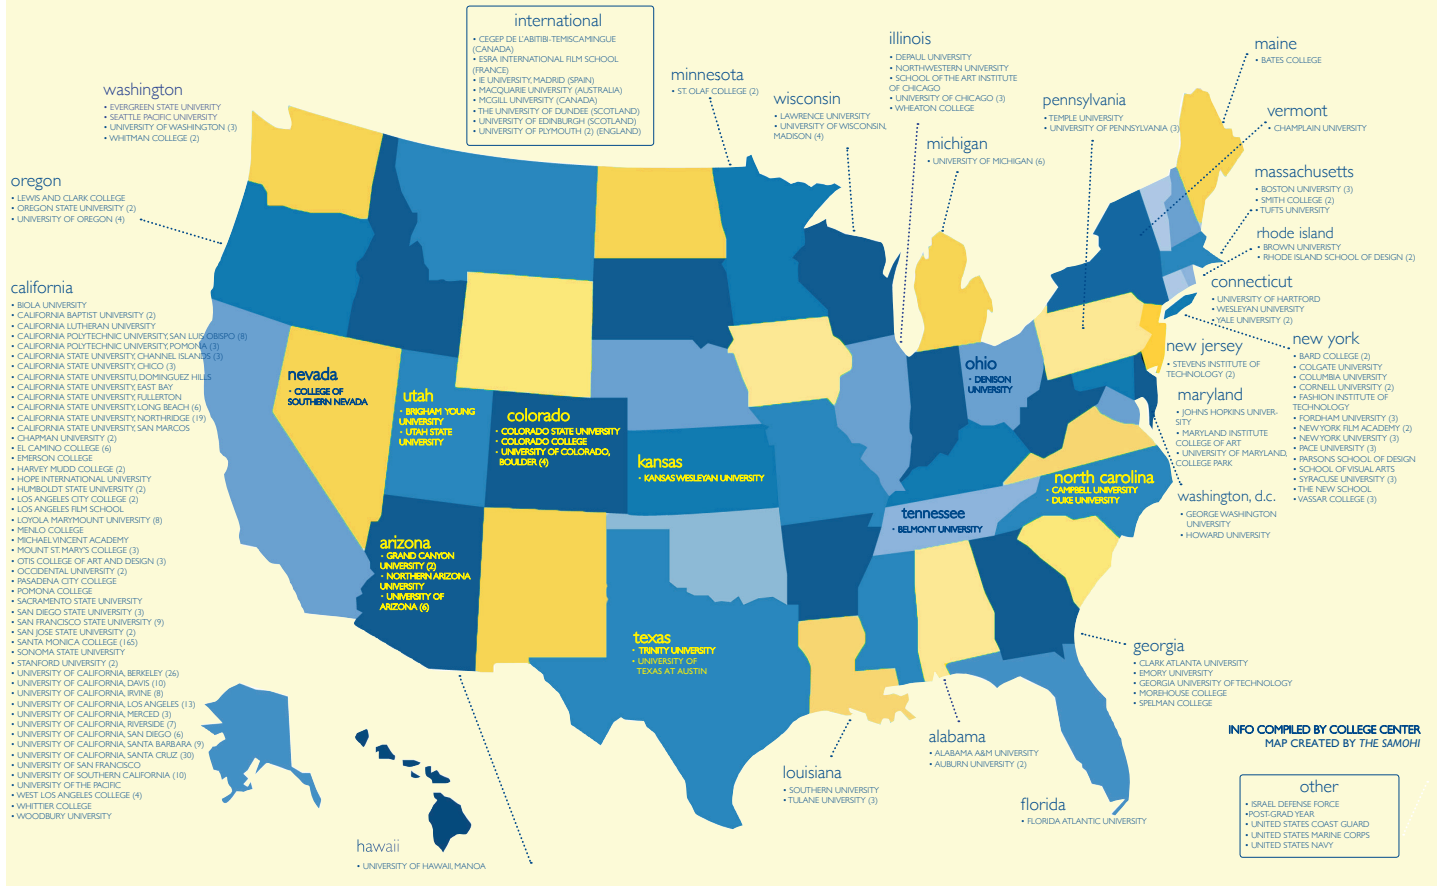

As Lucy's father said, "To know someone is there to give her the fast acting sugars if her levels are too low is crucial. It's everything for us."

Health & Wellness

- Health Office Specialists care for 2,412 elementary students
- 6th graders are trained in mindfulness
- JAMS and Samohi build community in Restorative Justice
- Students learn respect in anti-bullying programs
