2020-2021 Gratitude Report

Santa Monica
Education Foundation

Dear Remarkable Donor,

2020-2021 was a year like no other, as children and parents grappled with remote learning and ongoing uncertainty. Your donations helped give a sense of normalcy to an otherwise abnormal year.

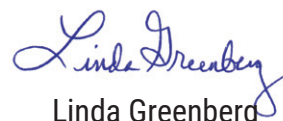

Among many things, you helped fund classroom aides who were able to work with students in breakout rooms when additional support was needed. You also helped procure the invaluable services of Health Office Specialists. They were busy receiving, organizing, and distributing PPE, as well as processing enrollment to prepare for a safe return for our students. Your donations helped students learn and achieve during an extremely difficult year.

In this report, we celebrate the opportunities you created for our students. Art programs, classroom aides, STEM programs, and health and wellness programs simply would not exist without your help. We remain incredibly grateful to you for your contributions on behalf of our students.

With sincerest gratitude,

Alison Havel, President
2020-2021 Board of Directors

Linda Greenberg
Executive Director

Because of you...

The Power of Music

At Samohi's 2021 graduation ceremonies, graduating student Miniya treated the audience to a moving musical performance. Miniya had been receiving private music lessons, funded by the Ed Foundation's Bergmann Endowment, during the pandemic. "Miniya's instructor Courtney was able to bring her singing to a whole new level, and during COVID it gave Miniya something to look forward to," gushed Tracey Collins, Miniya's mother.

Miniya is now attending Cal State Fullerton, where she was accepted into their prestigious music department. "It was by the grace of God that Miniya was able to receive private music lessons from the Bergmann program. The Ed Foundation has been a wonderful blessing," said Tracey.

Miniya plans to come back to Santa Monica one day and share her story and give back to the community that supported her education and musical aspirations.

Thanks to an amazing bequest, the Peggy Bergmann Arts Endowment, in honor of Lenore and Elmer Bergmann, provides music lessons and instruments to students who would otherwise not be able to afford them. This gives all students a chance to excel in music, like Miniya has.

Mindfulness During a Pandemic

Student wellness programs are a critical component of SMMUSD's well-rounded curriculum. This past year in particular, students were facing extraordinary challenges because of the pandemic. These programs address the health and wellbeing of students so they are better able to learn. A key aspect of the student wellness programs is mindfulness, a lifelong tool which helps to nurture authenticity, kindness, and connection.

Students greatly benefit when they learn to stop, take a few deep breaths, observe their thoughts and feelings, and gain awareness of their situation. When the mindfulness program was introduced at John Adams Middle School, suspensions dropped by 50% and fights declined by 75%.

Thanks to your generous support, students are learning valuable coping skills that are vital for mental health.

Academic Support for Our Most Vulnerable Students

COVID interrupted in-school learning, disproportionately affecting the socioeconomically disadvantaged households of Santa Monica. But thankfully, donors stepped up to help with this dire situation.

Thanks to one incredible anonymous donor, we teamed up with the Children, Youth and Family Collaborative to provide private tutoring to our community's foster students and those experiencing homelessness. In addition, thanks to the generosity of Nancy and Nimish Patel, the Appelbaum-Kahn Foundation, and another anonymous donor, we partnered up with two local tutoring services: 310Tutors and Club Z! In-Home Tutoring Service. 251 students worked with these companies online for six months, one hour per week, receiving the help they needed.

Jonathan McCowan, founder of 310Tutors and a proud father of two Santa Monica elementary students, said the program was a smashing success. Jonathan said, "The program gave academic support to hundreds of children who needed it the most. It was great to see those students improving during a time when many kids were falling behind, and the feedback from parents was amazing. It was a wonderful and fruitful experience!"

Keli Gaines, owner of Club Z! In-Home Tutoring Service, said, "Most of the students who participated had never experienced one-on-one tutoring due to the expense. We were delighted to be able to provide access for these children and watch the student/instructor relationships grow."

Providing Support for Student Health and Safety

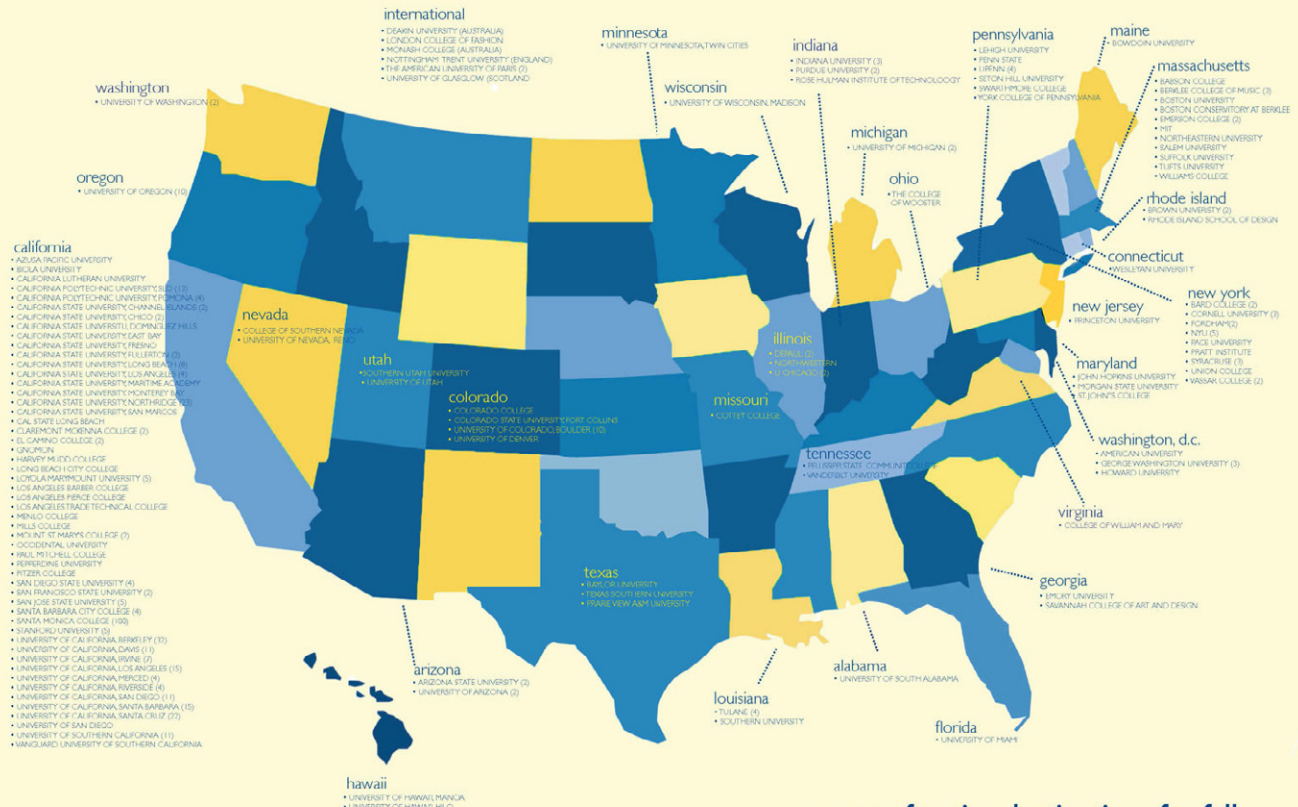

The District's Health Office Specialists were an invaluable part of ensuring that students and campuses were prepared to address health needs related to COVID. Thanks to your generosity, Health Office Specialists were available at many of our elementary and middle schools. During remote learning, Health Office Specialists were busy gathering information for state compliance reports, creating student health cards, and receiving, organizing, and distributing PPE, among many other tasks.

When students returned to campuses in April, Health Office Specialists, in collaboration with school nurses, were responsible for developing the health and safety protocols for the District, making sure that schools were safe for students. This included implementing pandemic-related plans, preparing isolation rooms, and monitoring students who may have required isolation. Our school nurses were beyond grateful for this vital additional help.

Where are Samohi 2021 Grads headed?

With the 2020-2021 school year concluding, we've cataloged where the senior class will be continuing their education after graduation. Below is a map of where the class of 2021 is headed.
